Programme:- World Population Day.

Report of the programme :- (If required attach additional sheets)

The activity conducted on 'World Population Day' was 'Poster/Slogan Making Competition' on 11th July, 2023 in 'Nidyaniketan College of Commerce and Science, Ghatkoper (East)'. The program was initiated by discussing the rankings of various countries in terms of population from higher to lower. The main motive behind celebrating this 'World Population Day' was to spread awareness amongst pupils regarding 'Over-population' and measures to curb it. We scheduled the activity at 11:15 am sharp in proxy lecture. The student's participation was minimal as they were not aware about the main reason behind celebrating 'World Population Day'. So, the reason behind celebrating it was briefly conveyed by 'Dr. Manjula Bhandari Ma'am' who was appointed as the observer for that particular day. Later, the spokesperson Riya Shirodkar Ma'am one of the team member cum team leader explained well about the criteria's regarding how population affects negatively and Extincts the natural resources which might bring difficulties to future generation. Also, as a student how they become capable towards controlling population by planting trees as a small but effective measure.

Later, we allotted them specific time for making posters/slogans and it became a good source for maintaining discipline in class and keeping students engage. Also, they understood the difference between healthy population, over population and under population. In short the outcome was satisfactory as the co operation on the part of students was not so good. As J (Manan) and Riya hosted the programme we got a lot of experience regarding conducting an activity alongwith the support of team members.

Internships were held in accordance with the syllabus. Lessons were completed according to the timetables created in collaboration with the schools. Interns also participated in proxy sessions, when they organized games and activities for school students. During their internship, student teachers helped school teachers organize extracurricular events such as morning assemblies, competitions, and annual sports. In certain schools, student-teachers supported teachers during preparations for Annual Day, Independence Day, and Republic Day and like many programmes that schools conducted. Along with this our students also conducted Electoral Literacy Club programme in their respective internship schools.

2. Planning and Execution of Community-Related Events

Objective: To enable B.Ed. students to engage with and contribute to the community through event planning and execution.

Community related activities are organized by students while working with community programs. At this point students learn to solve real-world problems, engage with diverse groups, and apply their organizational skills in a community context.

Along with the semester 4 internship there is also community work to be done, in which students do community work according to each year in semester 4.
